CONFERENCE OVERVIEW: Collaborate, Communicate, Change

“PowerUP! Baltimore: The Spark Igniting Collaboration”, is Philanos’ national Conference for visionaries who believe in the power of women’s collective giving to create impact in local communities. Regional giving circles and networks of philanthropic organizations have joined forces to collaboratively host this event. Breakout sessions will address best practices for innovative, inspiring, and inclusive collective giving as well as trends that affect philanthropic initiatives.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES: Inform, Influence, Include

At PowerUP! Baltimore, we will explore new ways of thinking about collective giving, of increasing effective responses to community needs, and of fostering systemic change. In sharing best practices gleaned across the Philanos network, we will inform women and all who identify as women how to efficiently establish, run and scale a giving circle.

“PowerUP! Baltimore: The Spark Igniting Collaboration” is a 3-Day Conference of Leaders in Women’s Collective Giving

- Participants include over 400 leaders of women’s collective giving organizations across the U.S. and abroad, strategic partners, sponsors, speakers, philanthropic organizations, local nonprofit organizations, and the media.
- There are speaking and attendee engagement opportunities with nationally recognized speakers, breakout sessions, social events, and more.
- Sponsors can connect directly with over 400 Conference attendees and through the Conference app. With social media, nearly 18,000 others will read about the Conference.
